

The wonderful world of books

YES it's that time of year again. World Book Day is coming up on 7 March so it's time to start thinking about dressing up. Who is your favourite book character? Perhaps it's Where's Wally or Cinderella, could it be Snow White or even the Cat in the Hat? Whoever it is we look forward to seeing all the costumes so get your thinking caps on. The very same week is going to be very exciting in school. This week, called 'We are all Writers' will see the children being given lots of exciting opportunities to use and develop their literacy skills. There will be more news about this coming very soon so don't forget to check your emails.

Calling all Dads. When do you use writing in your line of work? We are very keen to get Dads involved and will be inviting those who are interested to come along on the afternoon of 6 March to share their knowledge. If you would like to be part of this look out for the letter coming home next week for more details.

Roll up, roll up, the fayre is coming to town!

JUST one week until half term which means the PTA Spring Fayre is just around the corner on 8 March. First of all we have Mufti Day on 14 February, if you would like to wear non uniform please donate a bottle or chocolates (or both!) Half term is the perfect time to start decorating your jars, our theme is 'under the sea' and you can fill them with sweeties (no nuts) or lego or loom bands—remember if we get more than 500 jars the whole school wins a prize!

On 1 March we will be having a second Mufti Day for our gift tombola—new items only please. You can start bringing your decorated jars to school after half term. On the day before and on the actual day we will be taking cakes for the cake stall. Home made and shop bought - we love home made but please remember when you are baking that we are a nut free school. Looking forward to seeing you all there.

Your trash, our treasure

IT's the time when we think about Spring cleaning and getting rid of things that we no longer need. Before you put your unwanted things in the bin or give them to the charity shop, stop and think if it may be useful to us. Reception would really like some more dressing up clothes, if you have anything you think may be suitable please give to class teacher or school office. We also take, good as new reading books (no scribble or writing on the pages). We have enough spare uniform but if you have any outgrown PE kits they would be very useful. Thank you for your continued support .

Elephant Class lead the way

THE children of Elephant class will be leading Collective Worship on Monday at 2.30pm. Parents with children in this class are invited to come to watch and support their child in this special assembly.

Weekly Reflection

"Only the gentle are ever really strong."

James Dean, born 8 February 1931