

Cracking the Code

GETTING your cargo to the correct terminal was the challenge set for year 6 pupils by Heathrow. This exciting workshop saw the children using their coding skills to code up to 5 routes to end up at the correct point. The children worked together in teams with each child having the opportunity to practise coding.

As well as encouraging good team work, this task also gave the children the chance to develop their communication and social skills. The winners of the challenge were Icha, Shresta and Frankie.

Once a week, take a peek!

HEAD LICE are sadly becoming a normal part of childhood - surveys among primary school children have found that nearly 1 in 10 have head lice at any one time.

It can be frustrating when your child comes home scratching their head yet again. Please check your child regularly for lice – ideally once a week - let's stop head lice in their tracks! For advice go to the letter sent by email this week or try www.onceaweektakeapeek.com
