Accessibility Plan

Introduction

On 1 October 2010, the Equality Act 2010 replaced all existing equality legislation such as the Race Relations Act, Disability Discrimination Act and Sex Discrimination Act. It has consolidated this legislation and also provides some changes that schools need to be aware of.

Key points

The Equality Act 2010 provides a single, consolidated source of discrimination law. It simplifies the law and it extends protection from discrimination in some areas.

For the most part, the effect of the new law is the same as it has been in the past – meaning that school s/academies cannot unlawfully discriminate against pupils because of their sex, race, disability, religion or belief or sexual orientation.

The exceptions to the discrimination provisions for schools are all replicated in the new act – such as the content of the curriculum, collective worship and admissions to single sex schools and schools of a religious character.

Ashford CE Primary School is committed to equality of opportunities in all aspects of our provision and further information on how we endeavour to meet our responsibilities can be found in the school's Equality Policy.

Special provisions for Disability under the Equality Act 2010

The law on disability discrimination is different from the rest of the Equality Act in a number of ways. In particular, it works in only one direction – that is to say, it protects disabled people but not people who are not disabled. This means that schools are allowed to treat disabled pupils more favourably than non-disabled pupils, and in some cases are required to do so, by making reasonable adjustments to put them on a more level footing with pupils without disabilities. The definition of what constitutes discrimination is more complex. Provision for disabled pupils is closely connected with the regime for children with special educational needs.

The purpose and direction of the school's plan: vision and values

We are a caring Christian community where everyone feels valued, safe and adopts an "I can" attitude. All we do is underpinned by our Christian values which means we celebrate individuality and achievements through mutual respect and high aspirations. We believe that each one of us has the ability to achieve our highest potential and dreams, through a journey of life-long learning.

Principles

At Ashford CE Primary School we believe that all children are entitled to equal access to learning in accordance with their need regardless of race, sex, creed, religion, sexual orientation, disability or age.

"One of the major themes of the gospel is the unique value of individual human beings and their importance in the eyes of God. Within a Church school the basis on which human relationships are built will be this belief. Everyone in the school from the three-year-old just started in the nursery down to the Headteacher is a uniquely valuable human being, whom God loves. They are all entitled to the love and respect which that fact demands."

- A Shared Vision by David Lankshear

Our school vision demonstrates our commitment to helping our pupils achieve their potential and to tackle barriers that can oppose this. Ashford CE Primary School has high ambitions for its disabled pupils and expects them to participate and achieve in every aspect of school life. The school:

- sets suitable learning challenges;
- responds to pupils' diverse needs;
- overcomes potential barriers to learning and assessment for individuals and groups of pupils;
- aims to identify and remove barriers to disabled pupils in every area of school life

Information from pupil data and school audit

The presence of any disabled pupils in the school and the patterns of their participation in the life of the school are detailed in the SEND register and provision map.

The main priorities in the school's plan

Ashford CE Primary School has a duty to set out a plan that identifies actions aimed to increase access to education for disabled pupils in these areas of planning

- Increase the extent to which disabled pupils can participate in the school curriculum
- Improve the environment of the school to increase the extent to which disabled pupils can take advantage of education and associated services
- Improving the delivery to blind and partially sighted pupils of information which is provided in writing for other pupils

Management, implementation and publication

The accessibility plan supports and is supported by other school policies:

- School Improvement Plan
- SEND policy
- Equality policy
- Health and Safety Policy

The Accessibility plan will be reviewed and revised annually by the SLT and the Governing Body. The review will use the school provision mapping system, children's individual access plans that are encompassed in ECHPs, data monitoring information and the priorities in the school Improvement Plan.

The Accessibility plan will be available to all children, staff, and parents to contribute to the review process at any time.

The Accessibility plan will be published on the school website and can be available as a paper copy from the school office.
