

Art and Design

In Art and Design I am going to be exploring the work of famous war-time artists Henry Moore, as well as examining key images of WW2 and propaganda posters.

- Investigating images of WWII, looking at photography and recreating iconic images using photographic collages
- Experimenting with photography filters to create their own contrasting remembrance images
- Learning about the life and work of Henry Moore.
- Evaluating and recreating Henry Moore's shelter sketch series.
- Exploring propaganda posters and designing their own WWII inspired slogans and graphics

History

In history I am going to be learning about: a study of an aspect or theme in British history that extends pupils' chronological knowledge beyond 1066— WW2 Life, time and impact.

- How and why did WW2 start
- Who were the key figures involved at this time
- Life as a WW2 soldier
- The impact of the Battle of Britain and WW2
- What was evacuation and how did this happen
- Rationing and life back home
- Home front, land girls and the war effort at home
- investigate the events surrounding the 2nd World War; develop an understanding of what life was like and the impact the war on people's lives both during and after the war
- How the war ended and what was VE day.

Geography

In Geography are going to be learning about key places linked with WWII

- Locating the UK and Europe on different scaled maps
- Using compass directions and grid references to plot maps and significant journeys
- Naming, locating key places in the UK, including key landmarks
