In a clump of trees on the edge of a park there lived a badger. He was a very hungry badger, and his tummy wouldn't stop rumbling. One day a boy came to the park. He has a sandwich with him. It had fresh white bread and peanut butter. It was a BEAUTIFUL sandwich. Finally, along came the badger. He was hungrier than ever. He gazed at the sandwich, all covered in His tummy rumbled. So he ate up all the slugs. But he didn't eat the sandwich. It was too DISGUSTING.
