

Human Alphabet

Human Alphabet

To start off our new theme, we are going to be having a look at a fun activity.

This activity is called the human alphabet.

What do you think this could be?

Discuss with a person near you!

Human Alphabet

Your task

You are going to be using your bodies to create your own Human Alphabet at home or in school.

Have a practice to see which letters you can make!

If you have a partner who could do this with you, use them to make the letters too.

Use a camera or phone to take some photos of you doing the human alphabet. Think about capturing your whole body!

Good luck!!
