My Grandad the Gardener

My grandad just loves gardening. Every day, you will find him digging or planting seeds. When I visit him, he is always very cheerful. As soon as I step into the garden, he hands me a trowel and shows me where to begin weeding. Now, it's something I like to do as well. The scent of the flowers and the buzzing of the bees on a sunny day – these are all part of a wonderful day with Grandad in the garden.
